Sanfilippo Estate

The Sanfilippo estate is a private home located in Barrington Hills, Illinois, featuring the World's finest collection of automatic musical instruments. But there is more, much more!

The home also features the world's largest Wurlitzer pipe organ which will be demonstrated for us. A separate building houses the Eden's Palais with the fully restored European salon carousel, which we will be able to ride! There are numerous fairground organs, calliopes, street and tower clocks, steam engines, fully restored train engines pulling restored Pullman cars. The Sanfilippo family are the owners of Fisher Nuts but now the estate is managed as a charitable foundation. Its aim is to educate the public about automatic musical instruments, the theater organ, and other turn-of-the-century antiques. The foundation has assisted over two dozen charities in raising more than 1.5 million dollars in one year by guided tours and events. It's truly a by-gone era feast for the eyes!

Please note: We are limited to 112 attendees and No lunch provided.
