"I've always been fascinated by the idea of glass, the change from liquid to solid. And it pleases me to pull abstract visions into pieces of tangible beauty. Since I also love being on the water – ocean, river, lake, mud puddle – it amuses me to create pieces that harken back that liquid: stable, but still full of motion. And so, my work is alive with bubbles and waves, sea foam and movement, some reflecting the changeable sky of sunset."
