AT&T Stadium is more than the home of the Dallas Cowboys, it's a world of facts and figures about the world's largest domed structure, an art museum and a classroom.

With a maximum capacity of 100,000+ screaming fans, the Stadium is located in Arlington, Texas, approximately halfway between Dallas and Fort Worth, encompassing 3 million square feet and built at the cost of $1.7 billion dollars.

Meet your knowledgeable and experienced VIP Tour Guide in the ProShop and get ready for your "behind the scenes" tour of this awe-inspiring structure. Beginning at the Main Club your tour stops include a private suite...relax in luxurious style in the leather seats as your tour guide engages you with staggering facts! AT&T Stadium houses the world's two longest arches, the world's largest sliding glass doors, and the world's largest indoor TV. As your tour moves around the Stadium, learn about one of its' most unique features; the collection of museum quality, large scale Contemporary Art, which wonderfully enhances the iconic architecture of the building. Art enthusiasts and sports fans alike will be impressed by these works of art.

Visit the Locker Room, the Cowboys Cheerleader Locker Room, and Jerry Jones' personal elevator. Run out on the field like a pro player!

It is not all football – the stadium is home to concerts such as those by the Rolling Stones and George Strait. Other professional sporting events as Motorcross, Soccer, WWE Wrestling, March Madness, NBA Playoffs, and High School and College Football championships.
